

Emergency First Aid

This course covers the essential skills required to recognize and respond to urgent and life-threatening situations. You will learn to protect and support the life of an ill or injured person until EMS arrives.

This is a one-day course and is geared toward those who desire in-depth first aid training or those who require certification for the workplace. Emergency First Aid may be a requirement for any workplace with less than five people.

We teach the course through PowerPoint presentation, skills demonstration and practice, scenarios, class discussion and time for questions and answers.

A variety of topics are covered, from basic cardiovascular emergencies and CPR with AED, to more severe medical conditions and injuries. For added value, training is supported by hands-on practice and relative materials based on course requirements and the particular needs of your business. Training tools include – mannikins, AED trainer, bandages, splinting materials, barrier devices, auto-injector trainers, inhalers, etc.
